INFRASTRUCTURE RENEWAL AT NY PENN STATION

Amtrak is making a series of major infrastructure upgrades that will improve New York Penn Station's operational performance and reliability. This program will require extensive track work, which will impact train service. While this will create some impacts on service levels this summer, it will compress work that might take years into a period of weeks and, in the end, give us brand new infrastructure in a critical part of the station that will be more reliable and require less disruptive maintenance for years to come – benefitting all users of the station including our commuter partners at Long Island Rail Road (LIRR) and NJ TRANSIT (NJT).

Many weekday trains are affected by this project. Check Amtrak.com for details. Train 640 will operate from Harrisburg to Newark, NJ only; train 643 will operate Newark to Harrisburg only. Trains 642, 650, 652 will terminate at Philadelphia; trains 651, 653, 655 will originate Philadelphia.
